

Adam's grandmother has a large garden. Last week she had knee surgery and can't walk much yet. She asked Adam to help her take care of the garden. He has lots of other things he would rather do, but agreed to help her each morning for an hour.

Is Adam being a good steward? Why or why not?

Nathan promised to rake the leaves after school today. But on the way home he stopped at his friend's house and played his guitar for about an hour. Then he went home, did home work and watched TV until it was dark outside.

Is Nathan being a good steward? Why or why

There is a beautiful park near the Wilson's house. Many people have picnics there on weekends. Some leave behind bottles, cans and other trash. The Wilson family mark their calendar and go to the park once a month to pick up litter.

Are the Wilson family being good stewards?
Why or why not?

Samantha got a summer job babysitting the Stein's two children every afternoon. Today Mrs. Stein got home early and found her children playing alone inside their fenced yard while Samantha was inside talking to her friends on the phone.

Is Samantha being a good steward? Why or why not?

Mackenzie noticed that the light on the smoke alarm in her bedroom was blinking rapidly. She told her mom and together they put in a new battery. Mackenzie offered to check the other alarms in their apartment.

Is Mackenzie being a good steward? Why or why not?

Emily loves to ride her bike with her best friend Sarah. Today Sarah forgot her helmet so Emily ran back into the garage and got her sister's helmet for Sarah.

Is Emily being a good steward? Why or why not?

Lindsey knows that she has a math test tomorrow, but there is something on TV tonight that she really wants to see. Lindsey doesn't usually have trouble with math, so she thinks that she'll be able to get enough right to get a C without studying.

Is Lindsey being a good steward? Why or why not?

